New Council Takes Office

The new Elba City Council was sworn in last Monday night by Probate Judge James L. Sawyer. Seated are Mayor

Jack Brunson and Councilman Sam Sawyer, the only holdovers from the previous council. Standing are Owen Ziglar, Charles Ellis, Ben Carpenter and Ronnie Vaughan.

Mrs. Barker Talks To Auxiliary

Mrs. Blue Barker of Troy, State President of the American Legion Auxiliary, was guest speaker at a meeting of the local Auxiliary, Culver Post No. 42, which was held at the Elba Country Club on September 28th.

Mrs. Barker was welcomed to Elba by Councilman Sam Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer presented a "key" to the City to her and wished her much success in her year of leadership for the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Barker spoke on the aims and purposes of The American Legion and the support given to the organization by its Auxiliary. "Membership in the American Legion and Auxiliary offers an opportunity to men and women who have the nation in uniform to continue dedicated service in their community, state and nation through participation in programs of Americanism, legislation, community service, children and youth, national security and veteran rehabilitation programs sponsored by the American Legion," she said.

She cited the support now being given to the Veterans Administration's "Hire the Veteran" National Poster Contest aimed at decreasing the high unemployment rate among Vietnam veterans; pending legislation affecting national security; volunteer service in VA hospitals; and, varied community activities for children and youth. She also challenged the members to invite and enlist the Vietnam veteran, his wife, daughters and mother for membership.

Mrs. Barker also installed new officers of the local unit. The officers are: Mrs. Wayne Boswell, President; Mrs. Mary Parker, Vice President; Mrs. Elaine Thompson, Secretary; Mrs. Pastene Bryan, Treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Reeves, Chaplain; Mrs. Irene Kelley, Historian; and Miss Kathy Morrow, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Attending the dinner meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sawyer; Miss Judy Allen, Troy State University; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moore, Enterprise; Mrs. Foy Mae Reeves, Mrs. Jim Whitman; Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Grimes; Mr. and Mrs. James Boswell; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flowers, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Whitman; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jacobs; and Messrs. Georgia Mathis, Mary Parker, Elaine Thompson, Pastene Bryan, Evelyn Reeves, Thelma Clark, Anita Barber, Pansy Smith and Corinne Lowrey.

Troopers Check No Accidents During Week

From 6:00 P.M. Friday through 12 Midnight Sunday the Alabama State Troopers investigated 187 rural traffic accidents with 64 injuries and 10 fatalities. The fatalities occurred, 2 in Geneva and Etowah County and 1 each in Mobile, Wilcox, Pike, Shelby, Jackson and Chilton County.

These accidents bring the number of people killed in rural traffic accidents in Alabama this year to 666 compared with 610 killed during the same period of time last year for an increase of 56 fatalities.

The Dothan District Troopers investigated 20 accidents with 10 injuries and 3 fatalities during this weekend period. The Dothan District has 51 traffic fatalities so far this year as compared with 63 at this same time last year.

Coffee County Troopers investigated no accidents this weekend with no injuries and no fatalities. So far this year 8 persons have been killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents in this county as compared with 6 killed during the same period last year.

The council named the Elba Exchange Bank and the Peoples Bank as official depositories for city funds.

All parents who have children in the Elba School system and who are interested in a Parents' Association, are asked to contact H.R. (Rudolph) Crook.

WET-DRY PETITIONS PRESENTED TO PROBATE JUDGE SAWYER

On Monday of this week Probate Judge James L. Sawyer was presented petitions calling for a wet-dry referendum in Coffee County. The petitions reportedly contained the names of 2700 qualified Coffee County voters. Approximately 2350 names are all required to place the issue on the ballot.

Presenting the petitions (315 sheets of assorted sizes from newspaper clippings to printed forms) was a group headed by Cal Gooding of Enterprise. Gooding has been the spokesman for the group circulating the petitions during the past several months. Judge Sawyer accepted the petitions and immediately began checking names against the official voters list as required by law. He must call on a petition in "not less than 30 days nor more than 45 days" if he finds the petitions to contain the names of 25% of the qualified voters who voted in the last general election (November 1970).

Judge Sawyer told this newspaper Tuesday morning that he planned to schedule the election on November 7 along with the regular general election to save the county the expense of a special election.

If there are not enough qualified signatures on the petitions will be barred by the law from presenting another for two years. This two year time will also apply to another vote on the issue even if it does get to the voters and it applies equally to those for and those against the legal sale of alcoholic beverages.

Glenda Kelley Named New Miss Elba

The annual Miss Elba contest was held last Thursday evening in the Elba High School Auditorium, with sixteen High School seniors participating in the event. Councilman Charles Ellis served as master of ceremonies.

The new Miss Elba is Glenda Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelley. Glenda has blue eyes, brown hair and is 5 feet, 7 inches high. First runner-up in the event was Debbie Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowers. She has brown eyes, brown hair, and is five feet tall.

Second runner-up was Pam Davis, daughter of Mrs. Martha Jean Davis, of Elba, and Mr. John Davis of Enterprise. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, has blond hair and blue eyes. Pam was also second runner-up in the Little Miss Elba contest when she was six years old. Winner of the swim suit competition was Donna Adkinson, 5 foot-6 inch daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Adkinson. Donna has blond hair and blue-green eyes.

Miss Elba 1972 was crowned by last year's winner, Debbie Moore, a freshman at the University of Alabama. Glenda will represent Elba in the annual Pomona Festival later this month.

Elba Girls In ESIC Beauty Review

More than thirty Wiregrass beauties are expected to compete for the "Miss ESIC" title in the eighth annual Beauty Review at Enterprise State Junior College on Thursday, October 12, 1972.

The annual affair is sponsored by the ESIC yearbook staff. Mrs. Nina Carpenter and Mrs. Karen Westbrook, advisors to the annual, ANTI-NOMUS, said that, "Any full-time, single, female student with a 'C' average or better who plans to remain enrolled at ESIC through spring quarter 1973 is eligible to enter the contest."

The Review is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on October 12 with ESIC students admitted free on their ID cards, children under 10 free, adults $1.50, and other students $1.00.

Thus far the following girls from Elba have been nominated: Hilda Culver, Jenny Gamm, and Kaye Whittington.

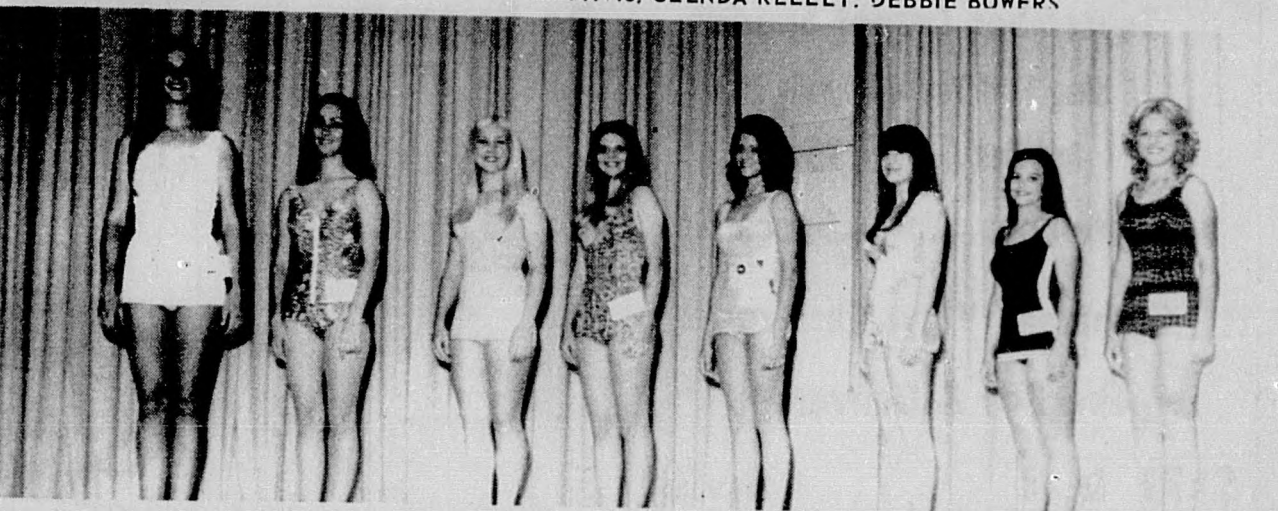

New GI Bill Not Passed Senate Yet

Many calls are being received at the Montgomery Veterans Administration Office concerning the pending increases in training allowances for GI Bill recipients. Neil R. Smart, Director of the Montgomery, VA Regional Office, stated today.

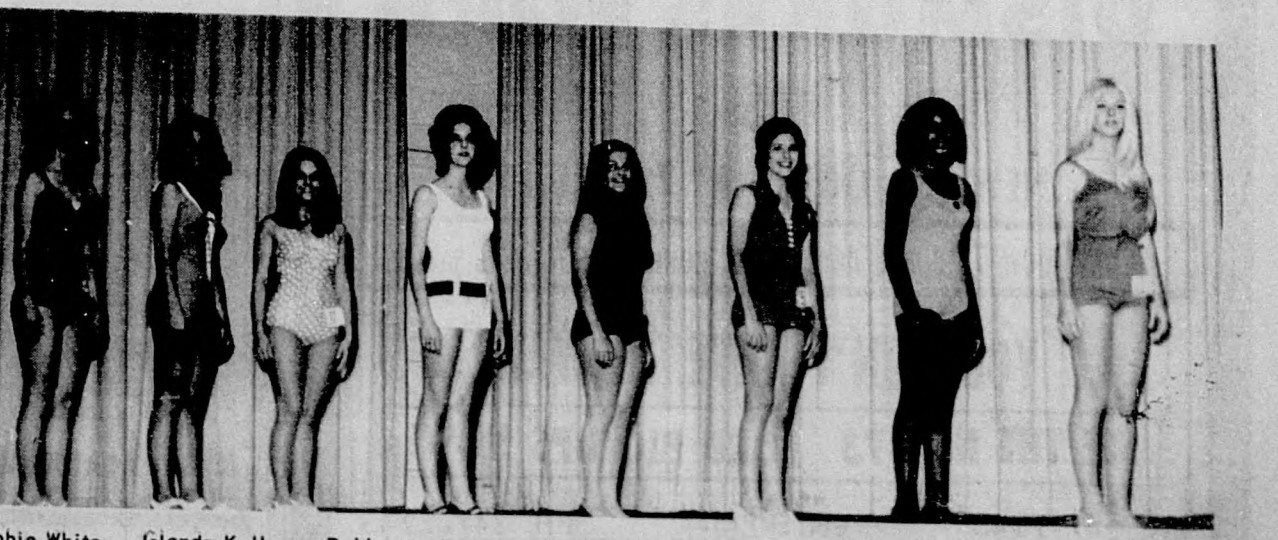

The U. S. House has passed a bill and has referred it to the U. S. Senate. On August 3, the Senate amended the House Bill and returned it to the House for consideration of the amendments. Further Congressional action will be required before the bill is finalized and presented to the President.

by JOHNNY MARTIN

First off this week, let's offer an apology from this writer for underating an Auburn Tiger defense which completely stunned the Tennessee Vols last week at Legion Field in Birmingham. Everything good that can be said about Shug Jordan's defense has already been said, and another stiff test stands in front of them this week. Ole Miss's Rebels, rated seventh in the nation at the time of this writing, barely survived their contest with Southern Mississippi last Saturday, but don't look for another bad showing from them this Saturday. Last week, Tennessee players read about an Auburn team that had been revamped and was rebuilding from three years of success. This week, Coach Bill Kinnard's Ole Miss team won't read that. Sportswriters aren't coaches, as coach Bill Battle of Tennessee reminded after Auburn's upset. This year's Auburn team is rebuilt, not rebuilding. Yet and still, it has to remain in the back of one's mind if indeed this was an upset, and if indeed Auburn is for real. How can a team that has scored a mere 38 points in three games win in this day and age of 400-yards a game offense? Defense and the kicking game are no doubt strong points of Auburn's game plan, but is the defense strong enough to play almost three quarters of a football game, and how many games can a team win on field goals and punts? We shall find out this Saturday if the War Eagles are for real, and the opinion here is that they are. Auburn is 13, Ole Miss 8.

On the other side of the state, the University of Alabama is still in the process of gunning down upset hopes and becoming one of the best in the back of one's mind if indeed this was an upset, and if indeed Auburn is for real. How can a team that has scored a mere 38 points in three games win in this day and age of 400-yards a game offense? Defense and the kicking game are no doubt strong points of Auburn's game plan, but is the defense strong enough to play almost three quarters of a football game, and how many games can a team win on field goals and punts? We shall find out this Saturday if the War Eagles are for real, and the opinion here is that they are. Auburn is 13, Ole Miss 8.

Locally, we have some kind of exciting football team shaping up at Elba High School. Last week's victory over the best Ozark team in years was, to say the least, very satisfying. Don't be surprised at the end of the season, if we look back on the best 'tiger team in a long while. However, let's look ahead no further than tomorrow night and the Enterprise Wildcats. They are big, they are tough, and they are favored. They haven't lost a football game in 4-A competition. They are no doubt the best Enterprise team in a history of good ones. But so is Elba. This going to be some kind of football game, and you had better go early if you want a seat. Throw out the records when Elba plays Enterprise, and it's got to be close. Elba, on the strength of its defense, is

DEMP HOLLEY DRIVES WITH BALL

TIGERS MAKE A TACKLE

ELBA DEFEATS OZARK 13-6

The Elba Tigers scored a convincing victory over the Carroll High Eagles of Ozark here last Friday night. Elba won the game 13-6 in a game correctly named the "Game of the Week" by the Montgomery Advertiser. Many Elba fans left the stadium with their hearts still in their throats following a thrilling game almost completely dominated by the Elba defense.

Elba started the game on a positive note by winning the toss and choosing to receive. After moving the ball to mid field, the Tigers were penalized 15 yards, the first of 60. This was followed by a five yarder and the Tigers decided to punt Ozark and let the offense settle down before giving it another try.

As the Elba punt went down field, Quarterback Wayne Flowers won the right to show Ozark the kind of defense to expect. He dropped the Ozark punt receiver in his tracks on the Ozark 35 yard line. Ozark then put a scare in Elba fans by completing a pass to tailback Fishmon Parker and he carried to the Elba 25. After meeting a stubborn line once, Ozark then fumbled and Ricky Nicholson pounced on it for Elba.

Elba moved the ball well for two first downs and were in good position at the Ozark 25 but failed to keep the drive moving and Ozark took over on their own thirty.

After the Eagles failed to move the ball and punted to Elba, Ronnie Powell returned it to the 42 and then Flowers kept at right end at the Ozark 20. Flowers then ran off right tackle for another first down at the 7 yard line. Elba moved the ball to the four before running out of downs at the 6 and Don Rhoades field goal fell short. Ozark had the ball at their seven and on the first play Elba forced a fumble out around left end Powell made an excellent tackle but came out temporarily nursing a hurt shoulder. Ozark's Hunter then shared a pass for the Eagles line 10 and when the PAT failed the score was 7-6 in favor of Elba.

SECOND QUARTER

The second quarter opened with Demp Holley diving into his line for the first score of the night and Don Rhoades quickly added the extra point. Jimmy Bailey and Dennis Jacobs stopped Ozark's Zo Speer on the 40 yard line. Willie Tyson dropped Ozark workhorse Terrell Flowers for a three yard loss. Ozark was forced to punt and the ball touched an Ozark player after traveling only 26 yards to the Elba 37.

Ronnie Powell dove in to the line for one and then a fumble by Elba was recovered by Ozark on the Elba 40. The Eagles began a mixture of passes and runs to move the ball downfield and on a pitch-out around left end Powell made an excellent tackle but came out temporarily nursing a hurt shoulder. Ozark's Hunter then shared a pass for the Eagles line 10 and when the PAT failed the score was 7-6 in favor of Elba.

Ozark attempted an onside kick which was recovered by Elba's Jerry Kelley on the Elba 47 yard line. The game seceded back and forth for a while then and finally Ozark fought their way back to Elba 19 yard line. After a loss of three the Eagles passed for an apparent score but it was called back on a five yard penalty. They were unable to score after the Elba took over and in spite of Ozark trying a field goal as time ran out in the half, the first half ended with the score 7-6.

SECOND HALF
The second half opened with

Ozark taking the ball. Very shortly Nicholson got another Eagle fumble on the Ozark 40 and Elba was again in business. The Tigers took 16 plays to move the ball into the end zone this time. The action was splattered with penalties with Elba getting one penalty and Ozark getting two before Stevie Daniels dove into the end zone for 6 more points. The PAT was no good but Elba was leading 13-6 a score that held up for the Tigers.

As the Eagles took the Elba kick-off, the ball hit an Ozark man and rolled into the end zone where the Eagles quickly recovered it and failed to run it out. The officials signaled a safety and two points were added to the scoreboard for Elba but the Ozark coach convinced the officials that the rule book says if the ball continues into the end zone on its own power it is not a safety and the two points were removed.

The third quarter ended with Ozark recovering their own fumble after a mad scramble that gained at least twenty yards for the Eagles.

FOURTH QUARTER

The fourth quarter opened with Ozark driving to Elba's five before being dropped back to the seven by Willie Tyson. The Tigers held and took over on downs. Elba moved the ball for one first down before punting to Ozark. The visitors were gambling for points and Ronnie Powell snared an Ozark pass and raced to the end zone only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

Powell got another Ozark pass as time was running out (clock set back to please Ozark coach) but fumbled on a hard tackle, but he used up precious seconds on the clock. The Tiger defense was fired up and Ozark's efforts to get on the scoreboard again were useless. The game ended with Elba winning 13-6.

Tranquilizers, Pep Pills Can Affect the Heart

Drugs have moved into the spotlight in recent years, primarily because we've found our children sniffling glue, taking speed, trying other drugs, literally "blowing their minds" and even dying.

This phenomenon of lasting brain damage or sudden death from mind-altering drugs is a tragedy, to be sure, but it should not take our attention away from these kids' parents--our over-tranquilized, ever pill-popping middle-aged Americans.

This huge group of well-meaning people are doing themselves a great disservice as a result of their ignorance about their own bodies. With their frequently self-prescribed drugs to calm themselves down or pep themselves up, they are asking for possible heart damage, and in turn, endangering their own lives.

When a physician prescribes a drug as medicine, he very carefully weighs the risk of giving it to the patient against the risk of not doing so, because he knows that technically speaking all drugs are "poisons." (This does not apply to vitamins and hormones given in small amounts to repair a deficiency.)

Drugs are used as medicine because they exert on the body, or on the bacteria attacking it, one kind of poisonous effect which counteracts or reduces the effects of another kind of poisoning that we call disease.

But even if a drug has been prescribed by a physician, it still should not be regarded as completely free of more or less harmful side effects. This should point up the danger to people who decide to take drugs without prescription for what ever pleasant or socially desirable effects they believe will be produced (pain killers, sleeping pills, alcohol, and tobacco are included here.)

Certain medications prescribed by physicians have been shown to cause heart damage if large doses are taken over a long period of time. Some pep drugs (tricyclic and piperidine antidepressant groups) can cause changes in the heart rhythm. The second of these is also known to aggravate pre-existing coronary artery disease.

One cardiologist, presenting a paper at a Heart Association seminar, reported that enlargement of the heart, or even heart attacks could result from long-term intake of two other groups of drugs (phenothiazin tranquilizers and imipramine antidepressants).

He suggested that if people are to take these drugs doctors should take electrocardiograms (to check on heart rhythm) and chest X-rays (to check on heart size) every three to six months to detect possible changes. He also had found that heart damage and rhythm changes may last for months or even permanently after the drug intake has stopped.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
A strange and surprising effect of still another group of antidepressant drugs which physicians prescribe (monoamine inhibitors) is that people who take them and also drink red wines or eat certain cheeses may show marked elevations of blood pressure. High blood pressure, if unchecked, can lead to heart attacks, stroke, or kidney disease.

As for the mind-altering drugs, abused mainly by young people, none damages the heart directly, as far as we know. However, we do know that they have an adverse effect on the circulatory system, chiefly by acting on nerves regulating the heart beat and the function of peripheral blood vessels. The hundreds of deaths that occur every year in young persons taking these drugs result from their stopping breathing -- a result of the drugs' direct effect on the respiratory center.

Job Bank

THE JOB BANK which went into operation in Alabama on September 23, 1972, is an approach to the age old problem of matching employer needs to available applicant supply, by employing a rather drastic departure from the system the Employment Service has lived with these many years.

With all its computer, printers, and exotic systems, the Job Bank means that the Employment Service will be able to place more people in more jobs with less effort in a shorter period of time than we have ever done before.

This means better service to employers and applicants. Any employer having a job opening only has to dial a toll free number, 1-800-392-5653, to place his order for needed employees. His order will appear within the day at every Employment Service office in the area, or it will appear state wide, if the skill needed is hard to find. The toll free number is not for use by job seekers, but for employers having a need for workers. People seeking job information should check at the nearest Employment Service office.

Instant Alibis

For greater efficiency in this hectic age, the making of alibis—like the making of alibis—needs to be streamlined. Nowhere is this need more urgent than in connection with grades, since the teacher is frequently so hard to find immediately after grades come out.

We have instant potatoes, instant "beauty" and instant coffee, so here are some instant alibis. Choose your own: There must have been a mistake somewhere. This mark was not well at the time of the examination. This mark reflected my mother (or father) whose pride I am.

4. This is the only course in which I received a poor grade.

5. It is not a higher mark which I seek; I care nothing for marks. I think marks are wicked and I disapproved of them. However, this pernicious of which I am the victim requires marks for achieving success, and therefore, I seek a higher grade.

6. Several people around me copied my paper during the examination; yet they received higher marks than I did. Surely this is unfair.

7. I have studied this subject from the broad philosophical viewpoint and, therefore, I was unable to answer your technical catch-questions.

8. The questions were ambiguous and unfair, distributed over the subject.

9. Conditions in the room were not conducive to concentration.

10. Objective exams have all been impossible for me; only in essay exams can I do justice to what I really know. (or vice versa).

FFA Report

On Wednesday, September 27, 1972, at 11:30 a.m., the opening ceremony of the Elba High Chapter of the Future Farmers of America commenced. President, John Pryor, called the meeting to order. The President asked all students that have not paid their FFA dues, to do so by Wednesday, October 4, 1972, so that they could receive their membership cards.

Mr. Jones, in an effort to boost FFA membership, offered to treat the first class to obtain 100% membership to a cookout.

New Typists Tell

Trouble

"Sit straight! Put feet to gether on the floor! Curve your fingers on the keys! All right. ASDF, LKJ; ASDF, LKJ; ASDF, LKJ."

What does this mean? It's only Miss Evans giving instructions to her beginning typists to get a better grade.

While the typists type on many signs of exhaustion and frustration creep across their faces. Many thoughts go through their minds—many not printable.

One student, Ann Martin, types on with sheer concentration and doesn't notice others around her. On the other hand, students such as Mickey Willis, Ronnie Mickle, and Nancy Taylor, are curious of what's happening around them; and their eyes wander around the room.

Occasionally, someone makes a mistake and hits the right key. (Adapted)

Alumni News

These are a few of last week's Elba High School students and where they are today: Joe Prior, a student at the University of Alabama.

Bill Scarborough, a student at Troy State University.
Becky Pryor, a student at Enterprise State Junior College.
Lynn Marsh, housewife and student at Enterprise State Junior College.
Jenny Hamm, a student at Enterprise State Junior College.
Rosemary Kendrick, a student at the University of Alabama.
Mike Bullard, a student at Auburn University.
Jimmy Cook, a student at the University of South Alabama.
Dianne Stewart Jones, a housewife and mother of a new baby girl.
Cecelia Cooper, a student at the University of Alabama.
Mary Collier is spending her Senior year at the Alabama High School of Fine Arts on the campus of Sanford University.

Senior of the Week

Pam Davis has been voted this week's Senior of the Week at Elba High School. John and Martha Jean Davis are Pam's parents.

Pam thinks Elba High School is the greatest ever, but would like to see the campus kept clean. She is taking Home Ec. III, Sociology, Modern Drama, pre-school aid, Democracy, and Band. Her pet peeve is "People telling me I did or said things that I didn't do or do at all."

She is a member of the FFA and Elba First Baptist Youth Choir. (Right now, Pam wishes Phil English could hurry up with the Naval Academy.) She plans to continue her education at Enterprise Jr. College, majoring in Elementary Education. Congratulations and Good Luck!

Junior Cheerleaders

The Elba High Tiger Jr. Team met the Opp Bobcats Jr. Team in Opp, September 21. Elba defeated Opp 14-3.

Opp's only score at the game came after recovering an Elba fumble on the first play of the game. After little progress, Opp kicked on the 4th down. The field goal was good for 3 points.

There was a good turnout of Elba supporters including the Elba Jr. Cheerleaders. The team would like to thank each of you who did come, and just remember, support your Jr. team today - we'll be your varsity tomorrow.

Junior Football

Lewis by QB Russ Cuss: The extra point pass attempt was intercepted by Opp.

In 3rd quarter play, Elba brought their lead to 14-3 when Bruce Donaldson ran a touch-down play and M. J. Cowell ran for the extra point.

The 4th quarter went without score. However, Gary Mullars made a TD after running back an Opp pass which he intercepted. The play was called back.

Elba's 2nd string defense was tested in the 4th, only to give the Bobcats a 20-yard gain on the 1st play. This was made up for, however, when Elba's Mark Hamm intercepted an Opp pass the next play.

Other Elba interceptions of the game were made by Tim Boutwell, one in the 1st and one in the 3rd quarters.

Rebellen vs. Respect
My Boy, said the father to his son, "treat everybody with politeness, even those who are rude to you; for remember you show courtesy to others not because they are gentlemen, but because you are one."

Everybody at some time experiences rudeness from others. Rudeness is sometimes thought to be a disciplinary action. We think when we are rude to others, we are disciplining them to do as we think they should.

Rudeness can also be a form of contempt. When we are rude to others we may have a bit of contempt for them and a cause to be a free surgeon, but we feel being rude to them might help.

Yet, rudeness can be a form of immaturity. When we are showing rudeness to others we are not hurting them but ourselves by exhibiting our immaturity.

In today's world when politics seem to be the main issue, we find much rudeness. Various politicians have been before groups of people who exhibit much rudeness. In places the speeches had to be cancelled because some could not be restored.

We all have opinions and may have a strong urge to express them, but when we go about doing this in the wrong way, we are not going to gain any respect, and chances are our opinions will not do any good.

When we have contempt for someone we want to get even and in the process we can do damage to ourselves.

In our classrooms, we are so often rude to teachers and other classmates. When an other student is speaking before the class, our respect should be shown to him and we should refrain from talking or making rude remarks.

When an assembly program or show is boring or uninteresting, we have a tendency to be rude. We must realize in most cases we chose to attend it and must make the best of the situation. If we find it impossible to enjoy it, we must tolerate it, for others around us may be enjoying it. A great achievement we can make for ourselves is accepting our mistakes as our own, not blaming someone else. We must learn to cope with our situations whether they suit us or not.

There is a prayer that goes: "Lord, grant me the courage to accept the things I cannot change; change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference." In the future, let's all try to live by this and not be rude to others for we are only displaying our immaturity and making others think less of us.

On August 28, there were nineteen bright eyed boys and girls who came to Mrs. Richardson's Third Grade room at Zion Chapel School. They were energetic and ready to "kick off" the 1972-73 school year.

These third graders have been working hard in such things as new math, language writing, reading, spelling, social studies, and science. This week they started an interesting project making weather instruments. Some of the ones already made are a barometer, anemometer, weather vane, and a thermometer. Although we can't predict the weather very accurately with our instruments we have had a good time making them.

We believe in the adage "All dull day", so we take time out each day for P.E. and free play. The boys enjoy playing football while the girls enjoy swinging playing in the seesaws, or jumping rope.

Elba Loses Big Game, 32-8 To Enterprise

The Elba Tigers took the football field last Friday night wondering just how good the Enterprise Wildcats were, and left after the game convinced they had met an army. After the Wildcats broke loose late in the second quarter, they seemed to have complete control of the game until the final whistle blew.

The Elba defense held the Enterprise eleven scoreless until 1:53 was left in the first half and then a pass to End Bruce Heath put Enterprise on the scoreboard. The PAT failed and the score was 6-0 Enterprise.

After the Enterprise kick it was Elba's ball on the twenty. Flowers passed to Leon Ballard for ten yards to the thirty and then when Elba attempted to execute the flea-flicker that ALWAYS seems to work for the Tigers, the Enterprise defensive man read the intentions immediately and broke it up causing a fumble that was promptly jumped on by his teammate. Three plays later Enterprise had six more points and 25 seconds were left on the clock.

The two-point PAT failed and the score stood at 12-0, Enterprise. Demp Holley got the next Enterprise kick back to the 43 yard line. On the first play, Flowers attempted to pass and was hit, dropping the ball. It was scooped up by Enterprise and run in for another TD. This time the PAT was good and the score was 19-0 with three seconds left in the half.

Elba took the second half kick-off and after losing back to the eleven Jimmy Bailey kicked short and the ball was on the 49. Enterprise was held and a 15-yard penalty put them back in their own territory in a punting situation. Jones kicked to the Elba 25. Elba got one first down before kicking to the Enterprise 25. The Wildcats went to work with both teams getting a 15-yard penalty before Rick Nixon played over from the 2 adding six more to the Enterprise. The PAT was good and the score was 26-0.

Again Elba was forced to punt after losses couldn't be overcome. Bailey's kick rolled dead on the Enterprise 8 yard line. Enterprise got one first down before being forced to kick. The ball was out of bounds at the 41 and Elba took over in good field position. However, the Tigers couldn't get rolling and Enterprise took over on downs on the 41.

The Wildcats couldn't get the ball to mid-field and kicked again it was short and Elba got the ball on its own 36. A quick pass to Ronnie Powell netted eleven yards and the long bomb to Leon Ballard put the Tigers on the scoreboard for their lone TD. Stevie Daniels ran at his right end for a 2-point conversion. On the next series of downs, Enterprise moved downfield in nine plays to score again. The PAT failed and the final score stood at 32-8.

Enterprise now put back their substitutes to finish the game and the crowd received three 15-yard penalties in as many plays. Elba had the ball on the 20 when Flowers hit Bailey with a pass at the goal line. The official called it the six inch line and the Tigers seemed assured of another TD. However, a fumble of the snap was recovered by Enterprise and they ran out the first seconds of the clock.

One Car Accident Takes Life Of Youth

Dennis Bowers

A one car accident following the football game Friday night claimed the life of Dennis Bowers, age 20 of Elba. The accident happened about four and one half miles north of Elba on the Elba-Brantley highway. Bowers, who was alone, apparently was on his way home at the time of the accident. The mishap happened shortly after eleven p.m. and Bowers, who was still conscious, was rushed to the Elba General Hospital by a unit of the Elba Rescue Squad. He died about 3 a.m. Saturday morning.

TOM ABRAHAM, MRS. STEPHENS, MR. STEPHENS WITH HUGE CAKE SHAPED LIKE KLEINERT'S PLANT

STEPHENS OPENS GIFTS - HARRY TAPPER ASSISTS

Farewell and fond memories were the measure of the occasion as the employees of Kleinert's left with him to this area. He also noted that the city fathers had been especially good to him and the company and that he was sure Kleinert's management was planning to go ahead with plans to double the size of the Elba plant in the not-too-distant future.

Mr. Stephens resigned his position with Kleinert's to accept a new position as Chief Financial Officer with International Paper Company. He will work out of the New York office of International. Stephens told Kleinert's employees he had enjoyed working with them and would be back when his new duties brought him to this area. He also noted that the city fathers had been especially good to him and the company and that he was sure Kleinert's management was planning to go ahead with plans to double the size of the Elba plant in the not-too-distant future.
